Join us in time for the cherry blossoms! We are planning an outstanding scientific program organized by the needs and desires of its ever-growing population. Where East meets West in harmony and where the skyline and the streets continue to be reshaped by Tokyo, a metropolis in which elegant traditional elements blend in with the bustle of modern day living, is Tokyo. It is a thriving city that serves as the heart of the country’s culture, economy and government. It is a wonderful place for the nonmedical attendee as well as the ophthalmologist.

WWOC2014 is to be held right in the heart of Japan in the Tokyo International Forum. The grand opening ceremony of WWOC2014 is to be held on April 2, 2014. By holding the 29th APAO in Tokyo in combination with the 34th WOC, we can provide a more comprehensive scientific program of events, covering a broad spectrum of ophthalmology issues from the understanding and management of eye diseases to skills in the treatment of patients and the effective delivery of eye care. We’ve also added a range of interactive programs. More than 2000 internationally recognized speakers cannot afford to miss this global gathering!

One of the most exciting attributes of the WOC is the opportunity to learn from the world’s foremost experts in all subspecialties of ophthalmology, as well as advances in ophthalmic education and eye care. The comprehensive scientific program will cover all subspecialties of ophthalmology, including new products and services in the ophthalmic industry. The scientific program, focusing on current hot topics, will also feature free exhibition space for companies to display the latest in their line of products. There will be approximately 100 free exhibition stands and approximately 400 new products and services on display. The WOC2014 is an event where you will have the chance to enjoy the comforts of Japanese hospitality and making your visit satisfying experience.

Witness the excitement of cherry blossoms in full bloom. Between the congress’ scientific program and Japan’s fascinating culture, you can be rest assured that the WOC2014 will be a truly enjoyable international congress in early April, Japan’s best season, when you can appreciate the sight of cherry blossoms in full bloom. We are so excited to have the honor of hosting this prestigious international congress in early April.

You may expect a world-class congress, matching those in Abu Dhabi and Toronto, that will draw ophthalmologists from around the globe. More than 2000 internationally recognized speakers are scheduled to present in over 500 interactive programs. More than 2000 internationally recognized speakers are scheduled to present in over 500 interactive programs. More than 10000 international congress participants, including ICO member societies and allied organizations, will be in Tokyo.

We are so excited to have the honor of hosting this prestigious international congress in early April, Japan’s best season, when you can appreciate the sight of cherry blossoms in full bloom. We are so excited to have the honor of hosting this prestigious international congress in early April, Japan’s best season, when you can appreciate the sight of cherry blossoms in full bloom. We are so excited to have the honor of hosting this prestigious international congress in early April, Japan’s best season, when you can appreciate the sight of cherry blossoms in full bloom. We are so excited to have the honor of hosting this prestigious international congress in early April, Japan’s best season, when you can appreciate the sight of cherry blossoms in full bloom. We are so excited to have the honor of hosting this prestigious international congress in early April, Japan’s best season, when you can appreciate the sight of cherry blossoms in full bloom. We are so excited to have the honor of hosting this prestigious international congress in early April, Japan’s best season, when you can appreciate the sight of cherry blossoms in full bloom. We are so excited to have the honor of hosting this prestigious international congress in early April, Japan’s best season, when you can appreciate the sight of cherry blossoms in full bloom. We are so excited to have the honor of hosting this prestigious international congress in early April, Japan’s best season, when you can appreciate the sight of cherry blossoms in full bloom. We are so excited to have the honor of hosting this prestigious international congress in early April, Japan’s best season, when you can appreciate the sight of cherry blossoms in full bloom.